

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A process for the manufacture of L-arabinose, characterized in that, vegetable fiber is contacted with an acid and an acidic hydrolysis is carried out under such a condition that L-arabinose contained in the vegetable fiber is selectively produced.